Pushing and Pulling

For nine years we've been pushing up values and pulling down prices, and today we are feeling awfully jolly because we've succeeded by our pushing and pulling in getting prices lower than values. We may not be able to hold 'em there long, so if you care to share with us this transient pleasure you had best bring along your purse and take home a Luster Sicilian or Mohair coat and vest for $2.50 that is actually worth $5.00, or for $2.90 a pair of our perfect fitting, tailor made $5.00 trousers.

CHICAGO, July 12 -Mr. Debs today was more consident of the ultimate success of his cause than at any time since the fight began. "I feel that this day is fraught with the utmost importance," said he. 6. Colonel Ingersoll's Views of Life. 'As I view the situation now, it puts forth a more favorable outlook for us than ever before. The excitement and turbulence, 8. How Payne's Body Was Brought Homeinvariably incident to the lapse of a great upheaval, is passed. The strife and tur-moil are elements that have "passed in the night." One is enabled to obtain a clear perspective of the sense of the immens conflict now waging. The cool-headed and steady purpose have succeeded to passion and diverse contraction. Now, public sen-timent can calmly and truly judge of the right and wrong in this struggle.

"All these things, I say, tend to strengthen our position. When the mass of the people are aided in rendering an impartial verdict of the merits of the case. I orice tain we shall not be defeated in outlic opinion. Indeed, we are now beened in the right by the majority of 64. 000,000 inhabitants of this country, and, as the adage has it, 'when sure you are right, then go ahead,' so we shall fight it out till our aims are accomplished." "Then any reports that you are preparing to give up the struggle, are untrue, Mr. Debs?"

"Most emphatically they are. Tele-graphic rumors may say that I have sent word to our men in this city, or that they are about to throw up the sponge, but they may be labeled falsehoods without the necessity of a denial from me. Our stand is this: "We have at all times shown Did you ever see a really good the country; we have even gone beyond tocking for boys and girls at locking for boys and girls at lock.
